A Nationwide Resistance is Threatened

By The Associated Press

A nationwide passive resistance movement featuring work stoppages and mass fastings by the nation's Negroes today appeared a possibility if the lengthy Alabama racial crisis is not resolved in a short time.

The first step toward development of such a program was taken yesterday when Rep. Adam Clayton Powell (D-N.Y.) announced a call for a one-hour mass work stoppage by every Negro in the nation March 28 in support of the bus boycott at Montgomery, Ala.

Powell said Negro leaders meeting at the New York church where he is pastor agreed on the day of prayer March 28 which will be climaxed by a brief work stoppage. Members of all races and faiths were urged to join with the Negro demonstrators.

The Negro pastor said it would be designated "National Deliverance Day of Prayer," with no Negro of any age attending school or working between 2 and 3 p. m.

A spokesman said this might be a forerunner to a possible "National Mahatma Gandhi-type movement." The late Indian leader made famous a passive resistance program of fasting and non-violent position to British rule.

While plans for the work stoppage were being made in New York, Negroes walked the streets of Montgomery in a mass 24-hour pilgrimage to prove their willingness to walk if necessary to carry on their 11-week-old boycott in protest against segregation on city buses.

Ninety of them walked to the courthouse in Montgomery for arraignment on an anti-boycott indictment returned by a grand jury Tuesday. All pleaded innocent and their trials were set to start March 19. A court officer said 10 more warrants were outstanding. This brings the number of defendants to 100.

Defense attorneys filed demurrers contesting the indictments which charged violation of Alabama's law against "illegal" boycotting. Maximum penalty under the law is six months in jail and a $1,000 fine.

Circuit Judge Eugene Carter withheld a ruling on a demurrer which said, in effect, that the state has failed to make out a case even if the facts alleged in the indictments are true.

At the State Capitol, Gov. J. B. Folsom, Jr. said he would support a bill from about 75 newspaper editors and publishers and radio and television broadcasters for a proposed bi-racial commission to settle differences between the white and Negro races.

Looking on in a knee-deep water is Col. Fred Anderson of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers. The reptile apparently crawled into the motor's housing for safety during the recent disastrous flood. U. S. Ready to Enter Picture at Hoxie

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Justice Department, in its first step to back up the Supreme Court desegregation ruling for public schools, will oppose an effort by segregationists to dissolve a federal injunction which prohibits them from interfering with racially integrated schools at Hoxie, Ark.

The government will file as a "friend of the court" a brief with the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals at St. Louis next month, said G. Frederick Maule, public relations director for the Justice Department.

The State of Georgia also has entered the case as a "friend of the court." Georgia's Atty. Gen. Eugene Cook will file a brief in support of the segregationists.

Three segregation groups have asked the Circuit Court to overrule U. S. Dist. Judge Albert L. Reeves, who ordered them early this year from interfering with operation of the integrated schools.

Terms of the injunction, requested by the Hoxie School Board, prohibit members of the groups from boycotting or picketing the schools, trespassing on school property to force a return to separate schools with bodily harm.

Judge Reeves also upheld the board's contention that Arkansas law requiring segregated schools is unconstitutional.

Twenty-five Negroes were admitted last year to Hoxie's previously all-white schools, which have an enrollment of about 1,000. Hoxie school officials have been under verbal and legal attack from segregationists since they ordered the integration.

The school board charged in court that segregationists had boycotted the schools and threatened some school officials in their campaign to force a return to separate schools for the races.

In appealing the injunction against them, the segregationists guarantee freedom of speech, and enjoin them from acts which neither were committed nor contemplated.

The entire facilities of the Anglo-American air-sea rescue service was thrown into action. But, instead of being sunk, the Achernon had been unable to report because of a global radio without due to an unusual spate of sunspots.

Experts Know It's Not Safe

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—It makes for little more genuine news than a dog bite, but just for the records, tipsy driving can be a dangerous occupation. Science has the word of some "experts" who can speak without fear of prosecution.

Cops like it. "I'm a medical student at the University of Louisville, who says of his experience: 'I had confidence but I PERFORM. The wheels couldn't perform. The wheels began to spin. Then I had a feeling of utter abandon. Someone was standing near the car. What the heck is he doing in my way? I asked myself, I didn't care if I struck him.'"

Cohen was one of 16 persons used in a laboratory look at results obtained from the potent mixture of alcohol and gasoline.

Safe from the hazards of city streets and open roads, the subjects were transformed into bona fide drunk drivers in what was called "the first major and professional effort in the United States to get some documentary expression of what a given blood-alcohol concentration will do to a person's driving."

A seagoing British minesweeper, the Coquette, finally made contact with the missing Achernon "shortly after noon (7 a.m. EST)," the admiral said.

Six Missing Planes Are Safe, Sound

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The Coast Guard said today six light planes which disappeared yesterday after taking off from Cuba from Jamaica had been found at Niquero, Cuba, and the 16 missionaries aboard were all safe.

"We don't know whether they had trouble or just decided to land there for the night," said a Coast Guard spokesman.

Nine planes carrying the missionaries on a six-week tour of the Caribbean islands took off yesterday from Camaguey, Cuba, bound for Kingston, Jamaica. Only three of the planes reached Kingston.

The planes were owned by members of the Church of God of Cleveland, Tenn. The pilots, most of them young, had planned to the flight in a cross formation symbolic of their religious mission.

They took off from Cuba shortly after 2 p.m. yesterday and were due in Kingston about 5 p. m. Only three of the nine planes reached Kingston.

Twin Admits Slaying, Gives No Reason

WHEELING, W. Va., (UP)—Officials said today the confession of a 14-year-old twin in the bludgeoning of a Cub Scout leader, David Powell, showed the killing was without "rhyme or reason."

Ohio County Prosecutor Joseph E. Gompers said the confession of Tommy Williams indicated there was "no apparent motive" for the crime.

"I have no idea why he did it," Gompers said. "There was no rhyme or reason for it."

Williams confessed slaying the nine-year-old boy to his attorney hour before he and his identical twin, Joseph, were arraigned on murder charges yesterday. Officials said Tommy made a full confession to authorities last night.

Gompers said Attorney William Callahan requested that the confession not be made public until the murder trial scheduled for April 2.

The confession virtually exonerated Tommy's brother.

"Joe Williams will be released as I clean up several facts, provided, of course, they prove to be negative," Gompers said.

He said he would not object if Callahan asked that bond be set for Joseph.

The Powell boy was killed Feb. 9 while canvassing neighbors near his Wheeling Island home to sell tickets to a Cub scout benefit show. His body was found the next day beneath a porch of the Williams' home. The victim's head had been split from front to rear and his throat and chest bore stab wounds.

Gompers said to his knowledge the trial would be held as scheduled. Intermediate Court Judge David A. McKee, indicated earlier he would leave it up to a jury to decide Tommy's fate.

The boy could be executed if a jury finds him guilty of first degree murder. West Virginia court records show that a 14-year-old boy was tried for a slaying 20 years ago and was convicted of second degree murder.

Gompers said that Tommy will be held without bond, shielded away from questions regarding the actual commission of the crime.

"That's in the statement," he said, "and I don't intend to violate an agreement with the defense attorney (Callahan)."

E. R. Schreiber, a special investigator employed by Callahan, said Tommy told Gompers he himself had no reason for the slaying. Schreiber quoted Tommy as saying he and the Powell boy "were pals."

Hope Juniors Play for State Title Tonight

Hope's Bobkittens defeated Newport 44 to 43 last night to enter the finals of the State Junior tournament tonight at Leachville. The Hope lads will play the Leachville Juniors and the game will be broadcast here starting at 8 o'clock.

Although the Bobkittens won by only a single point the game was really not that close. Hope took an early lead and maintained it throughout with Newport closing the gap on desperation shots that clicked near the end. It was the third victory for the local lads who downed Russellville, Jonesboro earlier, the latter being the favorite to win the title.

On the local scene last night Hope Senior boys defeated Blevins 85 to 56 while the Senior girls downed Blevins girls 46 to 31.

Emmet Tournay Upsets were plentiful yesterday in the Class B tournament at Emmet. Louisville ousted favored Stamps to earn the right to meet Lewisville in the finals tonight. Lewisville pulled two upsets in a row by ousting Laneburg and then dumping the favored Delight.

State Girls Tournay Over at Texarkana in the Girls State Tournament Ashdown and Emerson, two southwest Arkansas teams, meet for the title tonight. Emerson easily defeated Texarkana to reach the finals and Ashdown downed Bald Knob.

Slayings in Detroit Puzzle Officers

DETROIT (AP)—In the last month three men have left their Detroit homes in the predawn gloom to go to work and have been slain with single bullets.

None of the three was robbed. None had any police record. No arrests have been made.

Each man was shot with a different gun. Each killing was in a different neighborhood. One victim was a Negro, one a native Detroit and one a former German prisoner of war from the Russian army.

In reviewing the cases today, Lt. George Bloomfield, acting head of the homicide bureau, quickly discounted the possibility that a homicidal maniac is at large.

"Our experiences and our records show that a maniac killer usually uses the same weapon," Bloomfield said. "The only link in the three slayings is that each man was killed while on the way to work, and for no apparent reason."

The latest victim was Gurney Marik, 46, a factory worker. He was found dead in the sidewalk a few doors from his home yesterday morning. He had been shot in the back at very close range, apparently with a high-powered rifle.

Marik was born in Turkey and grew up in Russia. He was educated as a doctor in Armenia and was captured by the Germans while in the Russian army. After the war he came to this country, attempted unsuccessfully to get his Russian medical degree recognized and turned to factory work.

His billfold and pickets contained $10.47 when he was found.

A week ago today Clement Campeau, 48, a warehouse foreman for the Grand Trunk Railroad, was found dead beside the garage of his home. Police said he had been shot with a .38 revolver.

A month ago Gertrude T. Barker, 28, a Negro, was killed on his way to work at a city garage. He was shot in the left side with a .32 revolver. Both Campeau and Barker had money in their pockets when found.

Cladette Colbert to Go on Stage NEW YORK (AP)—Film star Cladette Colbert will trend the boards of a Broadway stage for the first time in 26 years.

Alfred D. Liagre Jr., producer of the play "Janus," announced she has signed to star in the play for two months starting April 2. She will replace Margaret Sullivan, who has been ordered by her doctor to take a rest.

JOINS THE NAVY—The USS Tulare, world's largest and most modern naval attack cargo ship, heads for her sea trials with San Francisco's Golden Gate Bridge in the background. Named after California's Tulare County, the ship has the latest electronic and radar features, a helicopter landing platform on her stern and two four-legged masts capable of holding a 60-ton landing craft. The armament surpasses in power that of any attack cargo ship in the fleet. To be commissioned in January, the Tulare's speed exceeds 22 knots. She is 563 feet long and is rated at 18,000 tons, combat loaded.

Department Store Sales Increase

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The St. Louis Federal Reserve Bank reported an estimated 8 per cent increase in department stores sales last week in the Eighth Federal Reserve District, compared to the same week of 1955.

Sales increased 12 per cent in St. Louis, 4 per cent in Louisville, 5 per cent in Little Rock and 1 per cent at Memphis, the bank said.

Sales in the district since Jan. 1 are running per cent higher than during the same period last year.

Catholics May Get Hard With Lawmakers

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A Roman Catholic newspaper said today Catholic lawmakers preparing measures to force segregation in private schools are subject to automatic excommunication if the laws are put into effect.

Catholic Action of the South in its edition dated Feb. 26, but made available today, also said excommunication is the severest punishment meted out by the Roman Catholic Church. The excommunicated person is barred from receiving the sacraments of the Church, including communion and the last rites.

The newspaper devoted a front-page editorial to criticism of a group of lawmakers sponsoring such legislation.

"The proposed laws in effect would be an entering wedge for the control of Catholic education by political leaders," the newspaper said, since most private schools in the state are Catholic.

They would "certainly impede the exercise of ecclesiastical jurisdiction," it continued.

"If the laws were put into effect, automatic excommunication, such as persons who, sought sheriffs, chiefs of police, or courts to put provisions of the laws into effect."

Four state representatives from the New Orleans area in a Feb. 15 letter asked for measures to prevent mixing races in private schools.

They were Reps. Cyril Broussard, Joseph Casey and Frank Huerst of New Orleans, and E.W. Gravette Jr., of nearby Plaquemine parish. All are Catholics.

In a letter read at All Masses in the Archdiocese last Sunday, Archbishop Rummel condemned segregation as "morally wrong and sinful."

The letter indicated he intends to end segregation in church and school facilities as soon as a special committee completes its study of the problem.

Arguments in Third Day on Farm Supports

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Aiken (R-Vt.) said today that "prospects for beating rigid mandatory price supports are good."

As the Senate moved into its third day of debate on a controversial election-year farm bill, Aiken prepared to speak in support of the administration's lower and flexible price support system installed two years ago.

Aiken is a Senate Republican member of the Senate Agriculture Committee, but is opposing that group's stand on price supports. The committee, by an 8-7 vote, called for scrapping the flexible supports and returning to the higher rigid levels for basic crops which have been in operation most of the time since World War II.

Most of the speeches in the Senate thus far have supported the committee's stand.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson referred to the high supports last night as "the unsound farm programs we inherited," and said they are to blame for farmers' present troubles. He said they encouraged overproduction and the accumulation of surpluses.

Benson and Sen. Thomas R. Martin (R-Iowa) appeared on the CBS See It Now television show to reply to what Benson called a "distorted impression of the farm situation" on the TV program Jan. 26. Benson had taken issue particularly with a film showing a farm sale in Iowa.

Ellender Seeks Showdown on Farm Measure

By EDWIN B. HARRINGTON

WASHINGTON (AP)—Announced in debate on the omnibus farm bill, Sen. Ellender (D-La.) said today he will seek a showdown day on a time for voting.

Ellender, chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee, said in an interview that if a limit is agreed on a final vote may come by the end of next week. He said he would take up the matter with Democratic and Republican leaders Monday.

"Our committee has worked overtime hours to get this ready for the Senate," he said. "So far we have had less than a dozen senators listening to most of the debate."

Sen. Aiken (R-Vt.) senior GOP member of the committee, said that a final vote next week is possible.

Although the bill involves a battle for farm belt votes, the campaign year, the Senate ran out of speakers late yesterday and quit until Monday.

So far there has been little dispute over the bill's proposal to pay farmers up to $1,000,000 to take cropland out of production for the next few years. The major battle looms over efforts of some farm-state senators to junk the administration's basic price support program, passed in 1954, and returned to higher, rigid support levels, basic crops which had been effect most of the time since start of World War II.

Gathings Call for Probe of the NAACP

WASHINGTON (AP)—In a session of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People was proposed in the House today by Rep. Gathings (D-La.).

Several other southern congressmen joined him in the proposal and went on to criticize the Supreme Court's decision that integration of white and Negro children in the public schools is unconstitutional.

Gathings called for a "full and complete" investigation of the NAACP, centering on where the organization gets its funds and what it does with them.

"We have nothing to conceal either as to the officers' or the activities of the NAACP," said Gathings. "The NAACP is a threat to the white race and to the country."

Gathings said the House committee on un-American activities has cited 75 of the NAACP's 177 officers, board members and executive staff members and said "the facts speak for themselves."

In New York, William F. Buckley Jr. said in a recent column that the NAACP speech he said was in Atlanta last October by Atty. Gen. Eugene Cook was "a lie."

"Mr. Cook knows the NAACP is not a Communist organization," he said. "He knows also that neither the attorney general of the United States, the House un-American activities Committee, nor any official federal body has branded the NAACP as a Communist or Communist-front organization."

Gathings told the House he agreed fully with a statement attributed to an Arkansas newspaperman that the NAACP is a threat to the white race and to the country.

"When the NAACP makes a program to break down the barriers against interracial marriage, the NAACP is not after all being honest and sincerely recognizing the rights of the Negro; they are really working for the abolition and ultimate annihilation of both races."

This Is Your Life Disliked by the Writer

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—I seem to be about the only person in the country who has no emotional reaction to Ralph Edwards' "This Is Your Life" on NBC-TV.

"This Is Your Life," as you doubtless know, is a very popular program with an enormous audience. It is a very popular program with an enormous audience. It is a very popular program with an enormous audience.

This is Your Life also is the program that sometimes throws many astute critics into a rage—an emotion not far removed from tears. "Plain ordinary commercialized sadism is the way one esteemed syndicated columnist has characterized it.

Well, the other day when Edwards dropped into New York from his Hollywood habitat we had a chat. It was rather an odd interview because Edwards scarcely got a word in.

He impresses me as a carefully controlled but basically pretty emotional guy who honestly believes in his program as an instrument of good emotional release.

I told him that his program fascinates me technically but the possibility because of a regrettably low emotional pitch I've never shed a tear while viewing it. I believe, I said, that every subject for one of his profiles must have suffered some traumatic experience, emotional or physical. Edwards didn't altogether agree, but he understood what I meant.

We all bear scars—it is the long absence of a beloved relative. In reunion or recollection we sometimes cry. What's wrong with tears. When I returned from overseas after World War II I met my wife in a crowded railroad station and we both cried. We weren't embarrassed. If we'd met on "This Is Your Life" we'd have cried—and the public be damned.

One point of criticism of "This Is Your Life" seems to be that tears in public are humiliating. What a ridiculous idea. Then let's ban public laughter too.

Another point of criticism is that some memories are too painful to be born. This view is at variance with most of religious and psychiatric teaching which says that man must learn to live with all his memories. "This Is Your Life" may not be the best place to begin learning, but as subjects friends have decided it is at least a place.

Another criticism is that Edwards whoops up the emotions too hard. Could be. But my judgment of the man after talking to him is that he does so honestly because he has tremendous emotional responses himself.

Peru Troops Set to Hit at Rebels

LIMA, Peru (AP)—Government troops were reported poised today at an unnamed Amazon River port within striking distance of the rebel-held city of Iquitos.

Sources close to President Manuel Odría said a military airlift has been massing troops and supplies at the port.

Units of the Army's 1st Division led by Brig Gen. Marcial Merino rebelled a week ago and seized Iquitos, 1,200 miles northwest of Lima.

A number of American citizens who had asked to be evacuated from Iquitos arrived here yesterday aboard a U. S. Air Force

During the recreation period a "grab bag" was held. Mrs. Barwick was given a birthday shower. Refreshments were served to the following: Mesdames Fred Wilson, Clifford Messer, Norman Taylor, Earl Dudley, Edgar Juris, G. Barwick, Orle Byers, Mrs. Wylie and two visitors. MATERNITY CAR—A new "dodge" was tried recently when a mama rabbit gave birth to a litter in a brand-new, pink-and-gray Dodge. The back door of the car had been left open at a car agency in Cleveland, Ohio. So, mama rabbit moved in. Agency owner Alvin Podway, above, has been feeding them and keeping the car motor running each night to operate the heater and warm the furry family.

Some English Actors Click, Others Don't

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Why do some English performers succeed in the United States while others fail?

This question has long intrigued observers of show business. Some British stars can be comedy favorites in their own land, yet they lay eggs here. A few are hits on both sides of the Atlantic.

Prime example is Gracie Fields, who can make any audience laugh or cry with her songs and stories. Miss Fields reflected on the matter of intercontinental comedy over lunch at the Hotel Statler, where she is appearing nightly.

"Most American comedy stars are well received in England, but the reverse is not always true," she said. "The main reason is that we in England are accustomed to all the American dialects through years of seeing 'pictures.' But Americans aren't familiar with all the English dialects."

She mentioned a British star whose Cockney humor makes him a big hit in England, yet he flopped here.

"A performer has to have his confidence," she explained. "When a comedian tells a couple of jokes and they aren't understood, he gets panicked and the rest of his performance is no good. That has happened to a lot of English stars."

On the other hand, some fail by trying too hard to meet American tastes.

Gracie, as spunky and winsome as ever, is playing her first night club date in 10 years. She seems to be bearing up under the strain of two shows nightly, but she admitted she was slowed down by performing on a telethon last

Dulles Swirls Continually in Hot Water

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
 WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles, quoted by Life magazine as saying it is an art to get to the brink of war without falling in, is less artistic about hot water. He's in it again.

And the Democrats are sloshing around after him, just as mad as they were the last time, and the time before that.

Dulles, freshly back from a Bahamas vacation, was called to day before the Senate's Foreign Relations Committee to explain what's going on.

The Democrats, but not Democrats alone, have expressed concern about the direction—or lack of it—in American foreign policy. There have been complaints that policy has been drifting since President Eisenhower's heart attack last September.

In this same period the Communists, dumping Stalin's sullen stay-at-home policy, have been moving confidently to try to win Asia and the Middle East with smiles and promises.

It was in mid-January that Life magazine, after a special interview with Dulles, carried a story extravagantly praising his conduct of foreign affairs.

He was quoted as claiming the Eisenhower administration three times had saved the country from war and as philosophizing on the art of getting to the brink. Many Democrats exploded.

Today marks the first chance they've had to question him about that story since it appeared, for on Feb. 12 he flew to the Bahamas for a rest. While he was fishing another explosion set the Democrats off.

This was the disclosure the United States was shipping 10 light tanks to Saudi Arabia although Israel had been pleading for months, without success, for U.S. arms. The Israelis said they needed arms for defense against the Arabs.

Then the tank deal got even more tangled when the White House, which didn't seem to know in advance any more about the shipment than Congress, ordered it stopped for a while. This angered the Arabs.

When two days later the administration lifted the embargo, the Israelis were angered. And so were the Democrats who complained they were told so little by Dulles, although he had pleaded for bipartisanship, that they felt like illegitimate children.

There have been various explanations by Washington newsmen who sought the answer to this almost incredible mixup, but no word from Dulles. He was in the Bahamas.

When he returned from his vacation this week he said the first he had heard about the tank shipment was when he arrived back in this country. This Saudi Arabian deal was the immediate reason for his call to testify today.

This isn't the first time American foreign policy got fouled up publicly while Dulles was off fishing. It happened before when the State Department brushed aside Red China's suggestion of talks about Formosa. This had to be corrected fast.

Around the World

CALCUTTA, India, (UP)—"Boishevist" dockworkers besieged the offices of the port commission here yesterday, demanding that police abandon efforts to track down the mob camped all day outside the commission offices, vowing to "imprison" the commissioners indefinitely unless they gave in. Police broke up the demonstration at nightfall.

MANILA, P. I. (UP)—Lt. Gen. Jesus Vargas, Philippines, armed forces chief of staff, said today he would recommend at the SEATO meeting in Karachi that the next SEATO maneuvers be held in the Philippines.

Vargas recalled that a series of military demonstrations was approved by the SEATO military advisers during the recent Melbourne conference. Thailand was the first country to sponsor maneuvers last week. The SATO council of ministers will meet in March at Karachi, capital of Pakistan.

BOMB REBELS
 KUALA LUMPUR, Malaya (AP)—The Malayan capital shook violently today as Australian Lincoln bombers dropped 20 tons of bombs in a guerrilla-infested jungle valley six miles away.

The bombing, ordered by the Selangor War Exemption Council, was the biggest since the war with the Communist rebels began nearly eight years ago.

Saturday night.

"I did after the last show," she explained, "and I didn't get home until 4 in the morning. I went to it feeling like Jack Benny's 39, but 'I'm real age 58, which is my real age.'"

Like Sir Harry Lauder, Gracie admitted she is always retiring. But she claimed it is the newspapers that announce her retirement, not she.

"I'll keep working as long as the pipes are loud and clear," she said. "When they get rusty, then I'll quit."

DOROTHY DIX

Not Much You Can Do for Troublemaking Mother

Dear Miss Dix:

When I was very small, my mother left my father and me. Over the years, my father and I grew up, made something of ourselves. Dad died and his successor in my mother's life also passed away. Mom is now alone, aged, with no money. Each of us children (there are four) has had her in turn, only to reap trouble for our plans. She gossips to our neighbors, often falsely, interferes and causes dissension within our households.

I am particularly vulnerable to her troublemaking. I am a divorcee, with a small son, and no one in this town knows my secret. Mother threatens to disgrace me (unless I give in to her every count. The divorce wasn't my fault, I'm trying to keep it from my child, and want only to devote my life to being a good mother.

If my mother spoils things for me in this town, I am going to move away and leave her, even if it means putting her in an institution. Would I be justified?

MARGERY
 Answer: Your mother certainly lacks every attribute of a good parent and doesn't deserve to be treated as one. From the facts in your letter, it seems very member of the family has tried to give her a good home, in spite of the fact that she wouldn't stay to provide the same for her own children. There's nothing you can do in the face of her failure to co-operate but put her in a home. Be sure she is well treated there, and your responsibility is ended.

You have a second problem that needs help, too. Why try to keep your divorce a secret? It's bound to come out sooner or later; in the meantime you are racked with apprehension. You can't keep running away forever. If the divorce wasn't your fault, you surely have no reason to feel shame.

Talk the matter over with the minister of your church and I'm sure he'll assure you that it's better to live the truth to be in constant fear of its discovery.

Sneaky Husband
 Dear Miss Dix: Thirty-five years ago when my husband and I were sweethearts, he "sneaked" and went with other girls. Now that we have been married all these years and he has made me a wonderful living, he still "sneaks
